KRIS WORKSTATION FINAL REPORT

COOPERATIVE AGREEMENT NUMBER 14-48-11333-98-J239
PROJECT NUMBER 98-319h-07

INTRODUCTION

The Karuk Tribe of California is a significant natural resource management group within the Klamath basin. A cooperative agreement was entered into with the US Fish and Wildlife Service in order to secure a KRIS Workstation. This action undertaken in this agreement is a component to the Fiscal Year 1998 Restoration Program Work Plan, formulated by the Klamath Basin Fisheries Task Force.

STUDY AREA

The study area encompasses the entire Klamath basin, but the area of concentration for the tribe is within the Karuk Tribe of California's Ancestral Territory.

METHODS AND MATERIALS

KRIS is a graphics based fisheries information organization system, specially tailored to the Klamath Basin. Data is added by users who can then make queries to better manage the resources around them.

EXPENDITURES

The KRIS Workstation purchased by the tribe consists of:

	AMOUNT
Pentium iii 500 Processor
128 Mb Ram
16 Mb Diamond Viper Video Card
17.2 Gb HD
6X DVD-ROM
Sony CDRW
19" Monitor	2885.00
30 Gb SCSI Tape Backup	700.00
3 COM 16 Port 10BT Hub	185.00
Office 97	499.95
ArcView GIS	400.00
Windows 98	229.00
	TOTAL
	4898.95

AGREEMENT TASKS

1. The KRIS Workstation was purchased and installed at the Karuk Tribal Fisheries Office at 39051 Hwy. 96, Orleans California.
2. Ongoing training of Karuk tribal staff to operate the KRIS station is occurring.
3. Pat Higgins has presented the KRIS system to office personnel (5), and given a training session on how to incorporate our data into the system. We are anticipating the arrival of the new version of KRIS to enter our data.
